1. GRANT OF LICENSE

The enclosed Software is provided under a license, not sold. You are granted the following rights and privileges, subject to the limitations, restrictions, and terms outlined in this Agreement.

1.1. If you are a legally licensed user, your rights to use the Software are determined by the license type specified in the registration letter provided by Devart upon purchase. You are entitled to the following:

- Under the Standard Edition, you may install and use the Software on a single desktop computer, exclusively for purposes in compliance with this Agreement.

1.2. If you are a legally licensed user, your rights to use the Software are determined by the License Type specified in the registration letter provided by Devart upon purchase.

- Under the Subscription-based License, you may install and use the Software on a single computer only during the subscription term specified at purchase. An Internet connection is required to activate the license and verify its status during use. Once the subscription term expires, you must either discontinue using the Software or renew the license for a new subscription term.
- Under the Perpetual License, you may install and use a specific version of the Software on a single computer without requiring an active subscription. A subscription, if active, grants access to new product releases, regular updates, and support for new server versions during the subscription term.

1.3. If you are a legally licensed user of the Software, you are entitled to the following:

- Make one copy of the Software solely for archival purposes, or copy the Software onto the hard disk of your computer while retaining the original for archival purposes.

1.4. You may use evaluation versions of the Software as outlined in the Evaluation section.

No additional rights or privileges are granted under this Agreement.

2.3. You may not distribute or sell any portion of the Software without integrating it into your Applications.

2.4. You may not transfer, assign, or modify the Software, in whole or in part. The Software license is non-transferable, and the Software installation package may not be transferred.

2.5. You may not remove or modify any Devart copyright, trademark, or other proprietary rights notices contained in any part of Devart files.

3. REDISTRIBUTION

This license grants you a non-exclusive right to compile, reproduce, and distribute new software programs created using the Software. You cannot distribute the Software integrated into your Applications unless you are an OEM License holder. All Devart files remain the exclusive property of Devart.

4. TRANSFER

You may not transfer the Software to any individual or entity without express written permission from Devart. Specifically, you may not share copies of the Software under the Desktop Edition with other co-developers without obtaining a separate license for each individual. Additionally, you may not install the Software under the Server Edition on more than one (1) server without acquiring a proper license for each installation.

Use of the Trial version is strictly limited to evaluating the Software and is not permitted for developing or deploying applications in a production environment. Applications developed using Trial versions of the Software may not be used for any commercial purposes. Upon expiration of the Trial Period, you must uninstall the Software and destroy all copies, along with any accompanying documentation.

The initial subscription period lasts for one year from the date of license purchase. Subscriptions are automatically activated upon purchase and can be renewed by Devart upon receipt of the applicable fees. Licensed users with an active subscription are entitled to request technical assistance for using the Software via email. Devart will make reasonable efforts to address your inquiries, but does not guarantee that all issues or problems will be resolved or fixed.
