XML2PDF Core — licence terms

Copyright (c) ISLC s.r.o. (Alt-Soft). All rights reserved.

This package contains proprietary software. It is licensed, not sold. The licence that governs your use is the XML2PDF Core Licence Agreement at https://alt-soft.com/terms. Where this file and that agreement differ, the agreement governs.

1. EVALUATION BUILD — package AltSoft.Xml2Pdf

The Evaluation Build is free of charge, with no time limit, no key, no registration and no expiry. It renders with the same capability as the Commercial Build and carries a diagonal "XML2PDF EVALUATION" watermark on every page, blank pages included.

You may install and use it to evaluate whether XML2PDF Core suits your application, and to develop against it.

Watermarked output may be shared for technical evaluation, testing and demonstrations, including with colleagues and prospective purchasers. It may not be delivered to your own customers as a production deliverable, and it may not be sold.

The watermark may not be removed, concealed or altered. Removing it requires rebuilding the library from source, and that rebuild is a licensed act, not a permitted modification.

2. COMMERCIAL BUILD — package AltSoft.Xml2Pdf.Commercial

The Commercial Build is supplied after purchase under the Commercial + OEM licence: one-time, perpetual, and covering one legal entity.

For the licensed legal entity it covers:

- unlimited developers, including authorized contractors working on that entity's behalf;
- unlimited applications and projects developed by that entity;
- unlimited runtime deployments and customer installations, including hosted and SaaS deployments the entity operates;
- royalty-free redistribution of the unmodified compiled engine inside the applications that entity ships, to unlimited end customers;
- perpetual use of the version purchased, with 12 months of released updates included from the date of purchase and no mandatory renewal.

It does not cover:

- an independent business using the library for its own applications, which needs its own licence, as does any subsidiary or contractor outside the licensed entity;
- reselling or redistributing the engine as a competing library, SDK or standalone product;
- modifying the engine and redistributing modified assemblies;
- sublicensing the library as a standalone product, or permitting an end customer to extract it.

OEM embedding is included in the same licence: embedding the unmodified compiled dependency in products you sell is covered, and it is not a separate tier.

3. BOTH BUILDS

You may not remove or alter this notice, reverse engineer the library except to the extent permitted by applicable law, or redistribute it other than as expressly permitted above.

XML2PDF Core 1.0 targets .NET 10 on Windows x64. A compatibility build for another .NET version is included with a Commercial + OEM licence at no additional cost, subject to technical feasibility: support@alt-soft.com. No delivery time is promised.

4. REFUNDS

Purchases are covered by the 14-day refund policy at https://alt-soft.com/refund.
